MAN HELD FOR GIRL'S DEATH

17-Year-Old Bride at Newark Found Bruifully Beaten

NEWARK. July 29.—Police Chief Gail Christman said today that a 22-year-old man was being held without charge in the slaying of Thelma Anderson, 17-year-old bride of a day, whose battered body was found in a field on the outskirts of Newark early yesterday.

The conference convened, however, in an atmosphere of dissension.

For more than 36 hours the deputy foreign ministers of the four principal powers—Britain, France, Russia and the United States—had argued before agreeing even upon publication of the five treaty drafts prepared by the four powers for submission to the conference.

The youth, who was held in jail pending a report on an autopsy, Christman said, signed a statement acknowledging that he had beaten his wife.

Severely Beaten

The body of the attractive blonde, whose face was battered beyond recognition, was found in a grassy spot along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad lines by James Wilson, a foundry worker taking a short cut to work. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Harger, identified the body from clothing and jewelry.

Christman said the youth in a signed statement told of visiting beer parlors with the girl Saturday evening and then quarreling and fighting with her.

"I remember hitting her and knocking her down," the youth was quoted as saying. "I picked her up in my arms and carried her down over the bank on the south side of the tracks. We started arguing and fighting again and she pushed me and fell to the ground and when I got up I hit her very hard with my right hand, knocking her down . . . I lost my head and I probably beat her severely as I get awfully mad when I am drinking and lose my reason, I could have kicked her."

Alive At Time

The youth stated, Christman said, that he left the girl and later returned. The police chief quoted him as adding: "I do not remember whether I struck her again or not." He said the youth asserted the girl was alive when he finally left her.

Mrs. Harger said her daughter eloped to Greenup, Ky., and was married last March 1, but returned home the following day and hadn't lived with her husband since. Four days later—at the girl's own request—the parents said they filed annulment proceedings in domestic relations court and that a hearing had been scheduled for next month.

The last time Mrs. Harger saw her daughter, she said, was about 6 p. m. Saturday night when the girl left home "to go up street."

Later reports indicated that she met a man downtown, she added.

The slain girl's husband, Charles Anderson, works in a downtown restaurant.

Car prices To Climb

Auto prices are tagged to go up an average of $100 in the case of lower-price cars, while the increase on more expensive models is expected to be greater.

Over the weekend OPA ruled that the new law eliminated ceilings on all items containing 20 per cent or more by volume of meat, poultry and eggs, dairy products, or cotton and soybean derivatives.

This left beyond controls, at least until Aug. 21, most mayonnaise, salad dressing, margarine and vegetable shortenings; animal gelatin and lard; canned chicken and powdered eggs, butter, cheese and ice cream; soy bean food products and most soy bean flour and bread.

Under terms of the OPA revival act, the board must hold public hearings before it makes any ruling on these commodities.

The revival law also bans restoration before Aug. 20 of ceilings on eggs, poultry, tobacco and petroleum.

The board also has sweeping jurisdiction over decontrol of all other commodities.

Officials said price hikes on automobiles and farm machinery probably will be the first actions taken under the revised standards.

Next in line are upward adjustments on textiles and clothing, with retail garment costs due to rise perhaps 15 to 20 per cent.

SEARCH FOR BORMANN

Hitler Aide, Long Believed Dead, Reported In Munich Week Ago

NUERNBERG, July 29.—American intelligence officers reported today that Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy party leader who has been missing since the fall of Berlin, was seen in Munich only a week ago and that a house to house search for him is going on.

Bormann long was believed dead.

He is being tried in absentia as one of the 22 Nazi defendants by the international military tribunal.

Intelligence chiefs said a disgruntled chauffeur of Bormann, fired in a disagreement over stolen garden vegetables, provided them with a tip that started a new hunt for the Nazi party chieftain.

Guard Heirens Against Any Attempt At Suicide

CHICAGO, July 29.—The jail guard over William Heirens was intensified today after Sheriff Michael Mulcahy reported finding of a note indicating the 17-year-old student charged with two brutal killings was contemplating suicide.

As new precautions were being taken, State's Attorney William J. Tuohy awaited first official notification that Heirens is ready to confess killing six-year-old Suzanne Degnan, ex-Wave Frances Brown and Mrs. Josephine Ross, a widow.

The sheriff said a note addressed to "Dear Mom and Pop" had been found Friday in a regular inspection of county jail cells. It was hidden in a mattress, Mulcahy said.

Last-Minute Rush

The end of a congressional session usually resembles the end of a motion picture being run out at double speed before an audience that has lost interest. The end of the 79th Congress is even more blurred and jumpy than the usual congressional windup because its affairs have been more muddled and confused than those of the usual congressional session.

If the closing passages of its record could be put into focus, however, these would be the conspicuous details:

The 79th Congress, formed during the war, was the people's last direct link with wartime Washington, a phenomenon whose nature still is obscure to most Americans, many of whom are only now beginning to realize that their nation at war also was the Garrison brothers and associates as well as Old Glory, casualty lists and time and a-half for overtime.

The 79th Congress, preoccupied with the problems of war and events immediately following war, will be succeeded by a new Congress to deal with the problems of peace. It is taken for granted that many congressmen now coming home have sat in their last congressional session. The 80th Congress will contain many new members. It is possible that Republicans will dominate it, at least in the lower house.

The 79th Congress presided over the climax of the historic experiment begun in 1944 when certain politicians gathered in a tension-filled room to decide on the successor to Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had been given the Democratic presidential nomination in the almost certain knowledge he would die before he who had dental offices over the Woolworth store.

The Deming Co.'s annual outing Wednesday at Meyer's lake, Canton, was attended by 600 employees.

The fifth annual Daily Vacation Bible school of the Christian church will close its five weeks session Friday with a program.

Mrs. R. F. White of Tenth st. was hostess to members of Circle I of the M. E. church Wednesday at her home.

Carl R. Ringnell, Ellsworth ave., is spending a few days in Minneapolis.

Members of the Garnet club held a coverdinner Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Jack Bell, Lisbon rd.

The Stars Say
For Tuesday, July 30

HIGHLY dignified and exalted planetary vibrations give spectacular, if not inspired, ways and means for putting over, developing or perfecting splendid talents, skills, genius in the arts, sciences, inventions and other creative forms of special abilities, urges or aspirations.

These not only bring recognition and renown but, as well, expanded opportunity for lucrative, pleasant and enduring culminations, with enhanced prestige and popularity. Organize, systematize, seek fresh techniques, and rich rewards, with love, romance and happiness assured.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year in which the Golden Opportunity may prove an open sesame to brilliant fulfillments in which performance, aspirations and ambitions, with fullness of riches, tributes, honors and love or romantic adventures, "cap the climax." This because of unique, novel, original, exceptional or audacious performance in the realm of art, literature, science, invention, perhaps philosophy and religion.

It is an expansive vibration, exalted and deeprooted in spiritual and creative sources, with the urge to bring these into practical, lucrative and colorful expression, with warming reactions on all pathways of human endeavor, through study, practice, sound techniques.

A high goal to concentrate and consecrate, for rich rewards and gratifications.

A child born on this day will be richly endowed with many and multiple gifts for a full, colorful, and felicitous career and way of life, its talents and creative abilities being of exceptional merit and practical form.

Two years after the airplane was recognized as an arm of national security, Orville Wright's first plane built to military specifications passed its tests. It was accepted by the aeronautics division on Aug. 2, 1909.

Aviation's development since then has been jammed with significant events—radio communication, automatic stabilizers, blind flying, improvements in construction, better engines, better fuel and, recently, jet propulsion and revolutionary plane designs. In 39 years, men have mastered flight, one of great mechanical accomplishments of human history. Wartime necessity projected airplanes into the postwar years with stronger impetus than they ever had been given before. The age of the airplane is not something that may materialize tomorrow. It is here now. Planes are no longer limited to military use, or sportsmen's expensive playthings. They have taken their place with all other forms of transportation as one of the prime necessities of our mechanical era.

On the 39th anniversary of wings, the congratulations must be divided among all the men who believed flight was possible and worked ceaselessly to make it practical for all the purposes it now fulfills.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year in which the Golden Opportunity may prove an open sesame to brilliant fulfillments in which performance, aspirations and ambitions, with fullness of riches, tributes, honors and love or romantic adventures, "cap the climax." This because of unique, novel, original, exceptional or audacious performance in the realm of art, literature, science, invention, perhaps philosophy and religion.

It is an expansive vibration, exalted and deeprooted in spiritual and creative sources, with the urge to bring these into practical, lucrative and colorful expression, with warming reactions on all pathways of human endeavor, through study, practice, sound techniques.

A high goal to concentrate and consecrate, for rich rewards and gratifications.

A child born on this day will be richly endowed with many and multiple gifts for a full, colorful, and felicitous career and way of life, its talents and creative abilities being of exceptional merit and practical form.

Two years after the airplane was recognized as an arm of national security, Orville Wright's first plane built to military specifications passed its tests. It was accepted by the aeronautics division on Aug. 2, 1909.

Aviation's development since then has been jammed with significant events—radio communication, automatic stabilizers, blind flying, improvements in construction, better engines, better fuel and, recently, jet propulsion and revolutionary plane designs. In 39 years, men have mastered flight, one of great mechanical accomplishments of human history. Wartime necessity projected airplanes into the postwar years with stronger impetus than they ever had been given before. The age of the airplane is not something that may materialize tomorrow. It is here now. Planes are no longer limited to military use, or sportsmen's expensive playthings. They have taken their place with all other forms of transportation as one of the prime necessities of our mechanical era.

On the 39th anniversary of wings, the congratulations must be divided among all the men who believed flight was possible and worked ceaselessly to make it practical for all the purposes it now fulfills.

Last-Minute Rush

The end of a congressional session usually resembles the end of a motion picture being run out at double speed before an audience that has lost interest. The end of the 79th Congress is even more blurred and jumpy than the usual congressional windup because its affairs have been more muddled and confused than those of the usual congressional session.

If the closing passages of its record could be put into focus, however, these would be the conspicuous details:

The 79th Congress, formed during the war, was the people's last direct link with wartime Washington, a phenomenon whose nature still is obscure to most Americans, many of whom are only now beginning to realize that their nation at war also was the Garrison brothers and associates as well as Old Glory, casualty lists and time and time a-half for overtime.

The 79th Congress, preoccupied with the problems of war and events immediately following war, will be succeeded by a new Congress to deal with the problems of peace. It is taken for granted that many congressmen now coming home have sat in their last congressional session. The 80th Congress will contain many new members. It is possible that Republicans will dominate it, at least in the lower house.

The 79th Congress presided over the climax of the historic experiment begun in 1944 when certain politicians gathered in a tension-filled room to decide on the successor to Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had been given the Democratic presidential nomination in the almost certain knowledge he would die before he could serve out his term, if elected. Harry Truman was made the heir-apparent of the New Deal. Less than a year later, Mr. Roosevelt died. The 79th Congress thereupon was presented the key to Mr. Truman's future. The key has unlocked no doors. Perhaps the 80th Congress may be more helpful, but at the end of July, 1946, it looks as if the 79th Congress might be taking the key home with it.

No Face-Spotting

There are two ways of looking at congressional pay increases. One is the way most of us do look at it, critically, and the other is the way more of us should be looking at it, thoughtfully.

A good congressman is worth whatever he needs, which is more than good congressmen have been getting. At $10,000 a year, only wealthy citizens, or persons who can't make $10,000 a year doing anything else can afford a congressional career without personal sacrifices. A raise from $10,000 to $15,000 can't guarantee that more able men will run for Congress but it can help.

The pay increase under consideration is part of a program to improve the over-all efficiency of the legislative branch, the foundation of representative democracy. The program, including the pay increase, has been approved by just about every agency trying to do constructive thinking on the problem of saving popular government from statism.

It is a tradition in the United States that Congress must be ridiculed and criticized, especially when it attempts to do anything to improve its own condition. There is no other way to give Congress more funds, except by act of Congress. The tradition of ridicule has been nurtured with devotion by those who use it to undermine confidence in representative democracy.

In a nation accustomed to spending hundreds of millions on worthy projects of all descriptions, the expenditure of less than $3,000,000 on a project to improve Congress is not exorbitant. It is as silly for a nation to punish itself to spite its legislators as it is for an individual to cut off his nose to spite his face.

Anniversary of Wings

The beginning of the Army Air Forces on Aug. 1, 1907, when the aeronautical division of the signal corps was established, will be commemorated this week.

Two years after the airplane was recognized as an arm of national security, Orville Wright's first plane built to military specifications passed its tests. It was accepted by the aeronautics division on Aug. 2, 1909.

Aviation's development since then has been jammed with significant events—radio communication, automatic stabilizers, blind flying, improvements in construction, better engines, better fuel and, recently, jet propulsion and revolutionary plane designs. In 39 years, men have mastered flight, one of great mechanical accomplishments of human history. Wartime necessity projected airplanes into the postwar years with stronger impetus than they ever had been given before. The age of the airplane is not something that may materialize tomorrow. It is here now. Planes are no longer limited to military use, or sportsmen's expensive playthings. They have taken their place with all other forms of transportation as one of the prime necessities of our mechanical era.

On the 39th anniversary of wings, the congratulations must be divided among all the men who believed flight was possible and worked ceaselessly to make it practical for all the purposes it now fulfills.

When the injection is given, there is some redness and pain at the point where it is administered. Now and then, the patient will develop a fever or a skin rash for a day or two. No severe or alarming reactions were noted in any case.

Once the infection in the lymph glands seems to have cleared up, an effort must be made to find the source of the infection and this, too, must be eliminated in order to prevent recurrences.

Farm Pay Rates Topic For Meeting Thursday

A farm wage hearing will be held at the Greenford grange hall in connection with the meeting of fruit, vegetable, and potato growers at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

Unit wage rates for harvesting apples, beans, potatoes, and other crops will be determined at the hearing.

Following the hearing, the County Farm Wage board, each of Columbiana and Mahoning counties will determine the prevailing wage rates and certify the same to the State Farm Labor office, according to the law.

The average ease of lymph gland infection, under the usual treatment, lasts anywhere from two to four weeks and even longer.

Many of these patients respond well to the use of the sulfonamide drugs or penicillin. However, these physicians think that a better form of treatment is the injection of a protein substance into a muscle.

Milk is a well known protein substance. This protein stimulates the natural body defenses to greater efforts. The injections were given three days apart until two to six had been administered. The amount depended on the reaction and age of the patient.

The protein which they employed was boiled milk. Following the first injection, they noted that the swelling of the glands became less and that tenderness also disappeared.

In a large percentage of the cases, the swelling and tenderness disappeared completely after the second injection and after the third.

BREMEN—American airmen stationed at the Bremen airport are trying to find a picnic route to demoralize German boys and girls.

Ten of the airmen are giving up after Sundays and three evenings a week to work with the children. They say that Nazis are not born, they made, and that with proper guidance the German young could be turned into democrats.

The program was begun in May. How it operates was shown here the other day, when three U.S. army trucks drove up to a Bremen school and took on a cargo of about 50 smiling waving boys and girls, 10 to 15 years old.

Sixty of the children wore wooden-soled shoes, but despite a soap scarcity all were dressed in spotless clothes. Some were accompanied as far as the school by their mothers, who stood by silent and uncertain as the children climbed into the trucks.

The vehicles clattered through the bomb-devastated city, out into the country, and came to a halt in a picnic ground in a glade. There the children piled out, some to go romping through nearby woods, others to climb back all over the trucks. Softballs and basketballs appeared.

Most of the children born signs of malnutrition—circles under their eyes and thin arms and legs. Yet, for four hours, they played with tire energy.

Whether it was the teachings of democracy or not, there were no attempts to monopolize the games. The ball invariably was tossed to any newcomer stepping into the circle. There were no arguments or squabbles, no occasions for reprimands. And never did any soldier say "don't do this or that."

"We don't believe in whistle blowing," a soldier said. "It smacks too much of Hitlerjugend tactics. We are trying to teach them that they can do what they want as long as they don't interfere with anybody else."

Then came time to distribute candy.

Colored sweets—supplied by the airmen out of their own rations—were piled in three big plates on a long table. The children sat on benches. But there

On Rent

Restoration of OPA ceiling rents in effect June 30, 1946, and eviction controls in the northern Ohio rent control areas were announced today by Karl M. Duldner, district rent executive, who released the following answers to questions most frequently asked:

Q—Is there now a rent ceiling on my home?

A—If you live in a rent control area, effective July 25, 1946, your home is under the same rent controls it was on June 30, 1946.

Q—The ceiling rent for my apartment on June 30 was $60. On July 1 my landlord raised my rent to $75 a month. Now that rent control has been reestablished must I continue to pay $75 a month?

A—No, effective August 1, 1946, your rent goes back to rent of $60.

Q—I signed a new lease on July 1 calling for $75 a month instead of $60, the rent on June 30, 1946. Must I continue to pay $75?

A—No. After July 25, 1946, the landlord may collect no more than the ceiling rent in effect on June 30, 1946 regardless of the terms of the new lease.

Q—I live in a rooming house. In June my ceiling rent was $45 a month. Now that rent control has been reestablished must I continue to pay the daily rate?

A—No, effective July 25, 1946 your rent will be on the June monthly rental of $45 a month. Landlords who hanged their rental basis contrary to the rent regulation, such as from a monthly or weekly to a daily basis during the interim period when federal controls were off, must return to the rental plan in effect for the unit on June 30, 1946.

Q—On July 1, my landlord raised my rent from $30 to $45 a month. I paid $45 for July. Can I get a refund for the $15 difference?

A—Landlords who charged more than their ceiling rents for the interim period, when penalties for violations of OPA controls were necessarily suspended, are not required by OPA to refund the amount collected in excess of ceiling rents for that period.

Q—In July, my city passed a local ordinance permitting a 15 percent increase in rent. Must I continue to pay this increase?

A—No. Regardless of local legal action in effect between July 1 and July 25, 1946, rent in excess of the maximum permitted under the Federal Act and Regulations cannot legally be collected after July 25, 1946. The Federal Act expressly states that Federal Rent Control supersedes local and state laws.

Q—I was evicted in July. A new tenant now occupies the premises. Can I now regain possession?

A—No. Tenants who were actually evicted during the interim period when penalties for violations of OPA Regulations did not apply, cannot regain possession.

Q—My landlord has given me an eviction notice but has not notified OPA. Can he proceed to evict me?

A—Landlords are now prohibited from proceeding with eviction actions without complying first with all OPA requirements covering evictions. The requirements are the same as those in effect on June 30, 1946. Any incomplete eviction proceeding contrary to the Regulations may now be completed. Consult your nearest OPA rent office for advice.

Q—In July the local court issued a judgment permitting my eviction but I have not been put out. Can I now be evicted?

A—No, unless your landlord complied with OPA Regulations. Landlords who complied with OPA eviction requirements and then were given an eviction judgment in the local court during the interim, may proceed to evict legally.

Q—I rented my apartment to a tenant for the first time on July 15. How soon must I register the apartment with OPA?

A—You will have 30 days after July 25, 1946 in which to register your property.

Q—I first rented my apartment to a tenant on June 15, 1946. How long will I have to register with OPA?

A—You must register within 15 days after July 25, 1946. A landlord who first rented a dwelling unit during June, 1946, must register within 30 days of first renting, not counting the number of days between July 1, 1946, and July 25, 1946, inclusive.

Q—I rented an apartment on July 1, 1946, and was required to give my landlord a security deposit of $100. Is this legal?

A—Your landlord must return this deposit to you within 30 days after July 25, 1946. Otherwise, he is in violation of OPA regulations and subject to penalties.

Review Eviction Orders

In cooperation with local courts the eight area rent offices in this OPA district will review all of the eviction orders issued since June 30 to find those which involve failure on the part of the landlords to observe OPA eviction procedure, according to Duldner. In these cases where actual eviction has not taken place the OPA will intervene on behalf of the tenants by asking local courts for a restraining order to halt eviction, he said. Judges are expected to dismiss eviction suits not filed in accordance with OPA procedure which are still on the docket waiting trial.

Duldner declared that rent control has been strengthened by the new legislation because for the first time the rent laws stipulate that federal rent regulations supersede local and state laws. This provision clears up the doubt on this point that has encouraged some local and state courts to disregard OPA tenant safeguards in evictions.

BREMEN—American airmen stationed at the Bremen airport are trying to find a picnic route to democracy for German boys and girls.

Ten of the airmen are giving up their Sundays and three evenings a week to work with the children. They say that Nazis are not born, they made, and that with proper guidance the German young could be fashioned into democrats.

Their program was begun in May. How it operates was shown here the other day, when three U.S. army trucks drove up to a Bremen school and took on a cargo of about 80 smiling, waving boys and girls, 10 to 15 years old.

Some of the children wore wooden-soled shoes, but, despite a soap scarcity, all were dressed in spotless clothes. Some were accompanied as far as the school by their mothers, who stood by silent and uncertain as the children climbed into the trucks. Softballs and basketballs appeared.

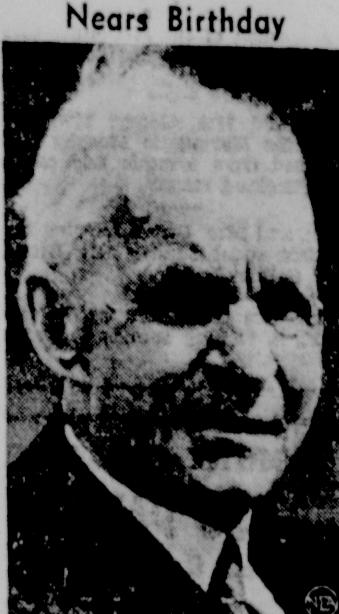

Most of the children born signs of malnutrition—circles under their eyes and thin arms and legs. Yet, for four hours, they played with terror.

Whether it was the teachings of democracy or not, there were no attempts to monopolize the games. The ball invariably was tossed to any newcomer stepping into the circle. There were no arguments or squabbles, no occasions for repramps, and never did any soldier say "don't do this or that."

"We don't believe in whistle blowing," a soldier said. "It smacks too much of Hitler jugend tactics. We are trying to teach them that they can do what they want as long as they don't interfere with anybody else."

Then came time to distribute candy.

Colored sweets—supplied by the airmen out of their own rations—were piled in three big plates on a long table. The children sat on benches. But there

Questions, Answers On Rent

Restoration of OPA ceiling rents in effect June 30, 1946, and eviction controls in the northern Ohio rent control areas were announced today by Karl M. Duldner, district rent executive, who released the following answers to questions most frequently asked:

Q—Is there now a rent ceiling on my home?

A—If you live in a rent control area, effective July 25, 1946, your home is under the same rent controls it was on June 30, 1946.

Q—The ceiling rent for my apartment on June 30 was $60. On July 1 my landlord raised my rent to $75 a month. Now that rent control has been reestablished must I continue to pay $75 a month?

A—No, effective August 1, 1946, your rent goes back to rent of $60.

Q—I signed a new lease on July 1 calling for $75 a month instead of $50, the rent on June 30, 1946. Must I continue to pay $75?

A—No. After July 25, 1946, the landlord may collect no more than the ceiling rent in effect on June 30, 1946 regardless of the terms of the new lease.

Q—I live in a rooming house. In June my ceiling rent was $45 a month. On July 1, my landlord changed the rent to $5 a month. Must I continue to pay the daily rate?

A—No, effective July 25, 1946 your rent will be on the June monthly rental of $45 a month. Landlords who have changed their rental basis contrary to the rent regulations, such as from a monthly or weekly to a daily basis during the interim period when federal controls were off, must return to the rental period in effect for the unit on June 30, 1946.

Q—On July 1, my landlord raised my rent from $30 to $45 a month. I paid $45 for July. Can I get a refund for the $15 difference?

A—Landlords who charged more than their ceiling rents for the interim period, when penalties for violations of OPA controls were necessarily suspended, are not required by OPA to refund the amount collected in excess of ceiling rents for that period.

Q—In July, my city passed a local ordinance permitting a 15 per cent increase in rent. Must I continue to pay this increase?

A—No. Regardless of local legislation in effect between July 1 and July 25, 1946, rent in excess of the maximum permitted under the Federal Act and Regulations cannot legally be collected after July 25, 1946. The Federal Act expressly states that Federal Rent Control supersedes local and state laws.

Q—I was evicted in July. A new tenant now occupies the premises. Can I now regain possession?

A—No. Tenants who were actually evicted during the interim period when penalties for violations of OPA Regulations did not apply, cannot regain possession.

Q—My landlord has given me an eviction notice but has not notified OPA. Can he proceed to evict me?

A—Landlords are now prohibited from proceeding with eviction actions without complying first with all OPA requirements covering evictions. The requirements are the same as those in effect on June 30, 1946. Any incomplete eviction proceeding contrary to the Regulations may not now be completed. Consult your nearest OPA rent office for advice.

Q—In July the local court issued a judgment permitting my eviction but I have not been put out. Can I now be evicted?

A—No, unless your landlord complied with OPA Regulations. Landlords who complied with OPA eviction requirements and then were given an eviction judgment in the local court during the interim, may proceed to evict legally.

Q—I rented my apartment to a tenant for the first time on July 15. How soon must I register the apartment with OPA?

A—Your landlord must return this deposit to you within 30 days after July 25, 1946. Otherwise, he is in violation of OPA regulations and subject to penalties.

HOBBYIST EXPLORERS SEEK CAVES AS SHELTERS AGAINST A-BOMBS

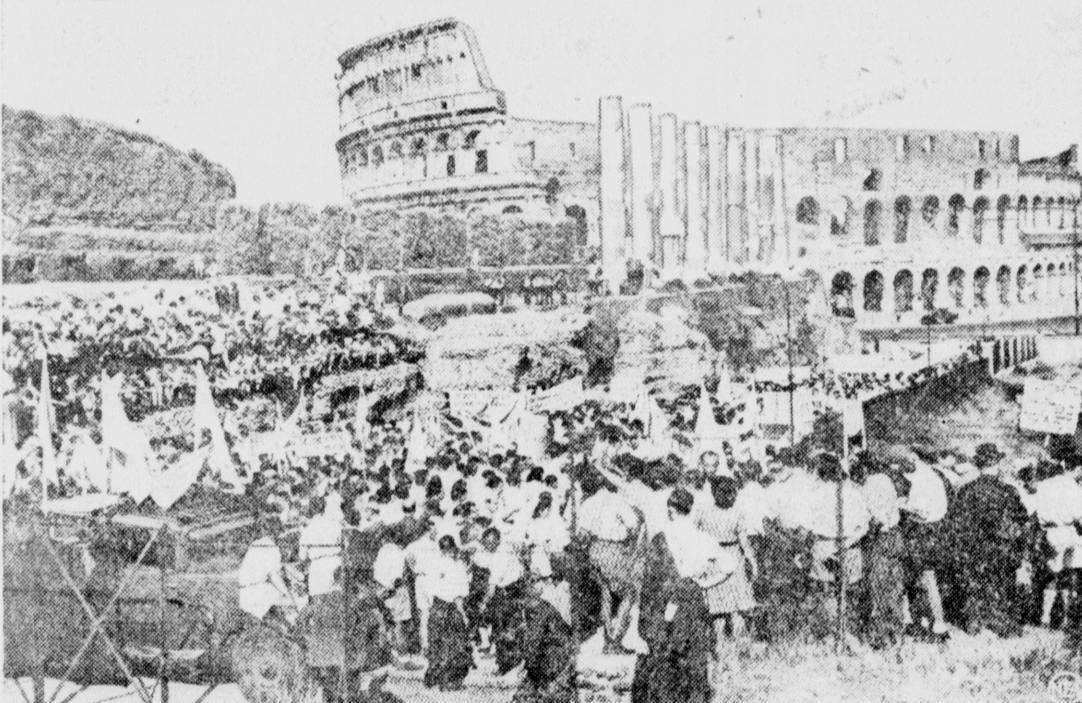

A RECENT WAR DEPARTMENT REQUEST to the National Speleological Society to find 50,000 square feet of cavern space for factories, shelters, and storage, met with the enthusiastic approval of those persons who make a hobby of exploring caves. The request followed President Truman's statement that the danger of an atomic bomb attack on the U. S. "is real." A group of speleologists, or spelunkers, is shown above at a meeting in the Strickland Quarry Caverns near Portland, Conn. The gathering is called to order by Chairman F. W. Wilson. Assisting are (right) Secretary Lydia Neubeck, and Clay Perry, the president. (International)

Jews in Rome Protest Palestine Policy

Bargain Day in a Junk Yard

Radio equipment that cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars went on sale in Atlanta, Ga., recently at 20 cents per pound, after the Army had discarded the material as "junk." Photo above shows scene in junk yard where several hundred Atlanteans went radio bargain-hunting.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT told the spelunkers that it prefers dry caves for its shelters and storage space, but running water in the lower levels doesn't necessarily mean that upper sections are not available. ## HOBBYIST EXPLORERS SEEK CAVES AS SHELTERS AGAINST A-BOMBS

A RECENT WAR DEPARTMENT REQUEST to the National Speleological Society to find 50,000 square feet of cavern space for factories, shelters, and storage, met with the enthusiastic approval of those persons who make a hobby of exploring caves. The request followed President Truman's statement that the danger of an atomic bomb attack on the U. S. "is real." A group of speleologists or spelunkers, is shown above at a meeting in the Strickland Quarry Caverns near Portland, Conn. The gathering is called to order by Chairman F. W. Wilson. ## Bargain Day in a Junk Yard

Radio equipment that cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars went on sale in Atlanta, Ga., recently at 20 cents per pound, after the Army had discarded the material as "junk." Photo above shows scene in junk yard where several hundred Atlanteans went radio bargain-hunting.

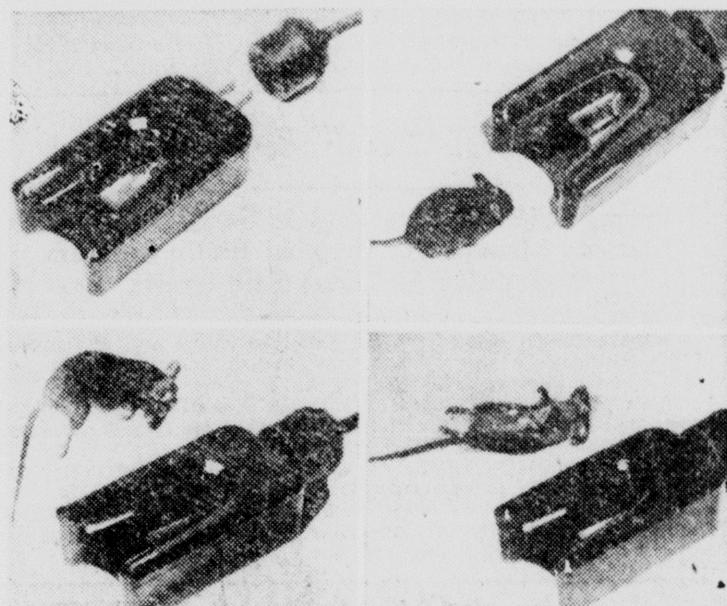

THE WAR DEPARTMENT told the spelunkers that it prefers dry caves for its shelters and storage space, but running water in the lower levels doesn't necessarily mean that upper sections are not available. In the form of food, clothing, medical supplies and money, the United States provided $536,000,000 in relief aid to other countries of the world during the first three months of this year. From July 1, 1940, through March 31 of this year, the U. S. government's overall expenditures on foreign relief and rehabilitation totaled $2,305,000,000, of which $2,125,000,000 was in supplies. By July 1, 1947, the total probably will exceed $4,500,000,000, the Commerce Department says. Picto-chart above shows how the relief has been distributed.

Salem Drops Thriller To Poland, 15-13, In Sunday Polo

Tony Sheen, Roy Bates Top Respective Teams In Show Of Day Before Large Crowd

In as fast and furious a polo game as local fans have been treated to this year, Poland's talented riders again showed the way to Salem, 15-13, at the N. Ellsworth road field Sunday afternoon.

Salem was far from out of the game at any time and fans were thrilled time and time again by terrifically hard scoring rides, mainly by Roy Bates of Poland and Salem's hard riding Tony Sheen.

The locals took over the lead early in the first chukker and maintained the sway most of the first half. A spirited and thrilling comeback by Poland, led by Bates and his smashing drives, knotted the count 7-7 at halftime.

The fourth period saw one of the finest scoring sprees of the year posted by Poland as Salem maintained an equal pace for more than half of the chukker and then fell far behind, where they remained until late in the final period.

Despite the fact that Sheen only totalled two goals, three under the Pittsburgh star, Dave Smith, his hard smashes throughout the game set up many a Salem tally and his terrific riding had the fans laying on their auto horns most of the day.

Sheen pulled one of the finest shots of the day in the fourth quarter when he rode the apple the length of the field in one mighty wallop and then pulled an unbelievable backhand shot under his mount's neck to put the willow root through the uprights from away out.

In the fourth Poland started madly, scoring three times on nice rides by Bates and Butch Miller. Bates tallied twice.

With Salem's hopes dwindling at this point, Sheen took charge of the white oval and brought the first score. Then Mate Wale Fernengel, playing another superb game, came through with a similar dash and a straight shot through to make it 10-9 in Poland's favor.

With one minute and 45 seconds left in the fourth Poland's Chad and Jim Johnson and Bates shot through quick goals to make it 13-9 as the fifth began.

Dave Smith got Salem's lone goal in fifth with Jim Johnson and Bates each scoring once for Poland to have the court at 15-10 as the final period began.

With Fernengel, Willie Smith, Sheen and Pete Votaw up in the last Salem began a seemingly well-gearred comeback.

It fell short, however, after the locals had shot three quick goals towards the waning minutes of the game, with Salem two small points in the rear.

Salem's scoring honors went to Dave Smith with five, Sheen had two, Hal Everett two and Fernengel, Willie Smith and Pete Votaw one each.

Bates led Poland with five, Jim and Chad Johnson posting three each, while Doc Johnson and Butch Miller each scored twice.

A schedule for August and September was to be hashed out Sunday, Salem officials said, and will be announced in Tuesday's Salem News.

The score:

Salem Drops Thriller To Poland, 15-13, In Sunday Polo

Tony Sheen, Roy Bates Top Respective Teams In Show Of Day Before Large Crowd

In as fast and furious a polo game as local fans have been treated to this year, Poland's talented riders again showed the way to Salem, 15-13, at the N. Ellsworth road field Sunday afternoon.

Salem was far from out of the game at any time and fans were thrilled time and again by terrifically hard scoring rides, mainly by Roy Bates of Poland and Salem's hard riding Tony Sheen.

The locals took over the lead early in the first chukker and maintained the sway most of the first half. A spirited and thrilling comeback by Poland, led by Bates and his smashing drives, knotted the count 7-7 at halftime.

The fourth period saw one of the finest scoring sprees of the year posted by Poland as Salem maintained an equal pace for more than half of the chukker and then fell far behind, where they remained until late in the final period.

Despite the fact that Sheen only totalled two goals, three under the Pittsburgh star, Dave Smith, his hard smashes throughout the game set up many a Salem tally and his terrific riding had the fans laying on their auto horns most of the day.

Sheen pulled one of the finest shots of the day in the fourth quarter when he rode the apple the length of the field in one mighty wallop and then pulled an unbelievable backhand shot under his mount's neck to put the willow root through the uprights from away out.

In the fourth Poland started madly, scoring three times on nice rides by Bates and Butch Miller. Bates tallied twice.

With Salem's hopes dwindling at this point, Sheen took charge of the white oval and brought the first score. Then Mate Walt Fernengel, playing another superb game, came through with a similar dash and a straight shot through to make it 10-9 in Poland's favor.

With one minute and 45 seconds left in the fourth Poland's Chad and Jim Johnson and Bates shot through quick goals to make it 13-9 as the fifth began.

Dave Smith got Salem's lone goal in fifth with Jim Johnson and Bates each scoring once for Poland to have the court at 15-10 as the final period began.

With Fernengel, Willie Smith, Sheen and Pete Votaw up in the last Salem began a seemingly well-geared comeback.

It fell short, however, after the locals had shot three quick goals towards the winning minutes of the game, with Salem two small points in the rear.

Salem's scoring hopes went to Dave Smith with five. Sheen had two, Hal Everett two and Fernengel, Willie Smith and Pete Votaw one each.

Bates led Poland with five, Jim and Chad Johnson posting three each, while Doc Drown and Butch Miller each scored twice.

A schedule for August and September was to be hashed out Sunday, Salem officials said, and will be announced in Tuesday's Salem News.

The score:

SALEM	POS.	POLAND
Fernengel (1)	No. 1	Drown (2)
W. Smith (1)	No. 2	J. Johnson (3)
Votaw (1)	No. 3	C. Johnson (3)
